TELCO Date = Date the TELCO provider entered the new record into their system. This date can be very close to the origination date, or can vary by days, depending upon when the order for service was fulfilled by the TELCO.

Origination Date = The date the record is added to the Goldleaf Data file. This date is what we explain to users of the data, as a definitive "move in" date.

Activity Date = This date shows an occurrence on a record, that pre exists on the Goldleaf Data file. There will be an origination date that is previous to the activity date. Activity date records are generally new moves, or disconnects, however, disconnect records get remanded to the disconnect file, and thus are disallowed from being output as a connect / new move. On some activity date records, we were able to provide the previous address, if a marketer needs to be more incisive on the move occurrence.
